

Most teams arrived on Thursday at the sunlit TT circuit in Assen. On Friday, a free training held followed by the first qualifying session. This training resulted in a first place from the Czech Republic Adam Kout 1.1 seconds followed by Priscilla Speelman from the Netherlands and 2.1 seconds Marko Laine from Finland.

On Friday evening there was a demonstration in central city of Assen. A demonstration race where all classes of the event and participated by tens of thousands of visitors were seen. Ulli as essential and Priscilla Speelman took care of the DEMO for the super karts, complete with a wave caused Priscilla as she waved to the audience.

On Saturday, the second qualifying ride. The pole position was Jürgen Reinke from Germany, starting in the second Adam Kout, the third for Priscilla Spee followed by Eric Martin Gjertsen from Norway. At the end of the afternoon, drove the first race, which showed a thrilling battle between Jürgen Reinke, Adam Kout and Priscilla Speelman. Priscilla was halfway through the race which withdrew and the race was eventually won by Adam Kout. On Sunday, the second race driven. For the start it started to drizzle so the track was quite slippery. After a spectacular start came after a first round by Adam Kout followed by Marcel Gorissen. Marcel showed that with some older material can provide an excellent performance. Adam Kout had to retire with cooling problems.

The finish of the race was as spectacular as the start. Priscilla Speelman took the last corner with an all or nothing action Jürgen Reinke and won the race with 0,064 seconds ahead.

This was a spectacular end to a race weekend with many visitors. This event will certainly be followed up next year.
